Life . . .

STUDENT LIFE, DAILY LIFE

ACTIVITIES in the dining hall begin a long time before the rising bell at 6:00 a. m. Sleepy eyed students arrive for breakfast at 6:30. Every morning devotions are given by one of the students at the request of the Dean of Women. A little more awake after the early morning chatter over cereal and rolls, some of the less fortunate dash to the early morning class at 6:55 while the more leisurely may have some time to study before the two remaining class periods that precede chapel services each day.

At chapel they participate in group singing, a short worship service, listen to announcements by the president and faculty. Usually there is an interesting program of special speakers or some other informational guide in preparation for life.

The health of the students is closely guarded as shown by the picture of the local nurse giving one of the students the patch test for tuberculosis check-up.

WITHIN LICENSE

OUR repatriated missionary enjoys liberty of spending leisure time in the museum. Liberty is one of the greatest inalienable rights with which we are endowed. It is but one of the many privileges we enjoy. Liberty governed by justice and equality—a motive for democracy.

Of course, automobile rides are not as numerous or extensive as they formerly were, but occasionally the students have the privilege of riding in one of the limousines seen around the campus. This is a strictly business enterprise: a gospel team loading for points north.

Smiles were free and abundant when service men, former students, returned for brief visits with old friends.

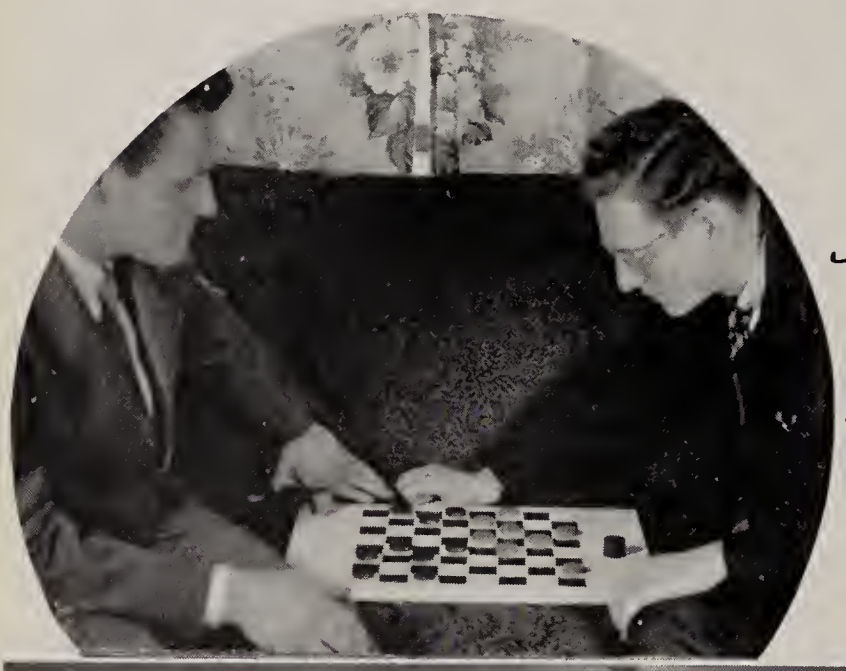
Pursuit of Happiness . . .

EXTRAS— THE ATHLETIC GAMES THE SOCIAL CLUBS

HAPPINESS is an elusive thing to pursue. It means so many things to so many of us; but because of our heritage, we are welcome to happiness wherever we find it.

The parlor is the scene of many a game of checkers and chess and friendly talk.

A joyful event in the fall is the annual Thanksgiving dinner with decorations of fodder, pumpkins, and squashes. Later in the year students delight in the Christmas Dinner and Birthday Banquet.



Among other activities of course there is the freshman initiation. Three happy freshmen pose with their bright green hair-bows.

Thanks,
Have appreciated knowing you.

Dear Wanda,

How well I remember your first days in M.C. as my room mate. The Lord has really truly blessed you and changed ~~his~~ your life hasn't he. I have appreciated watching you grow in Grace. May we in the future under this flag be more than victors through his grace that has set us free, Broken our fetters of sin and given liberty through grace.

Yours for His Service
Mary Esther Noggle

Pray for me when you think of me in days to come. The Lord bless you richly.

Life . . .

STUDENT life today is much more intensive than it formerly was—now filled with many experiences, both joyous and tragic as well as the usual routine of classes and extra-curricular activities. To the hideous monster, War, human life is cheap—is destroyed en masse and forgotten as time goes by. To us, Life remains precious—full of dreams, tears, laughter and has the possibility of making the world sweeter, purer, lighter, richer, and nobler. Marion College life is patterned after the Christ who said, "I am the way, the truth, and the life" and, "putting first things first," in that Way we live—knowing we will not have lived in vain.

ADMINISTRATION

I Peter 1:13
"Gird up the loins of your mind, be sober, and hope to the end for the grace that is to be brought unto you at the revelation of Jesus Christ."
Yours in Christ,

WILLIAM F. McCONN
M.A., B.O., D.D.
President

FOR the past twelve years Dr. William F. McConn has headed the activities of Marion College. He has freely contributed to the life of both the students and the school as a whole. He has wisely guided many of us in our pursuit of happiness.

A common phase of the life is here shown where Dr. McConn dictates one of his many letters to Miss Jones, his secretary.

JOHN D. WILLIAMS
Treasurer

FOR eighteen years John D. Williams has served as treasurer of Marion College. During this time he has been efficient in his service and has added greatly to the happiness and well-being of Marion College.

Here we see Mr. Williams and bookkeeper Arney in the treasurer's office.

STUDENT COUNCIL . . .

THE Student Council plays an important part in the life on the campus. It is composed of the president, one additional representative from each class, the dean of women and the dean of men. William Meddock served as president of the Student Council this year.

The group sponsored a school project for the construction of a new cement tennis court. The organization usually meets two Monday evenings a month.

It acts as spokesman from the student body to the faculty. The council aids in governing student life, listens to students' desires and does much to preserve their happiness.

SENIOR SAGES . . .

Huffman, Zent, Jones, Svozil, Higgins.

AS THIS class arrived at M. C. in the fall of 1940, it was royally welcomed and initiated by the Sophomores. Each year they very capably displayed talent and entertaining ability in Chapel programs.

As Juniors it was this class that gave up the greatest number of its members to the Armed Forces. In honor of these members to these, the Chapel program this year did much in creating patriotism at M. C.

Other events of the Junior year were the entertaining of the Seniors at the spring banquet and the detaining of the Senior sneak for about four hours.

As Seniors, though decreased in number by war and marriage, this class can boast of an enrollment slightly greater than that of Senior classes of the past few years. For weeks, at the beginning of the year, the Juniors lost much sleep because of them, but all for nothing—the Seniors only went to the Pence farm for dinner.

The officers are president, Verdon Higgins; vice-president, Clarence Huffman; secretary, Virginia Jones; treasurer, Betty Svozil; Student Council representative, Helen Zent.

THE Junior class is unusually large this year—having a number of transfers from Miltonvale and Central. It has many talented students with great possibilities, and engages in numerous activities around the campus: religious, debate, sports, literary societies and departmental clubs. A particular project this year was the sponsoring of the annual Junior-Senior banquet in May. This is one of the biggest undertakings that the class sponsors during its four years at Marion College.

The group gave a party for all new students at the beginning of the fall term.

Junior officers are president, Forrest Boyd; vice-president, Marjorie Elder; secretary; Beulah Johnson; treasurer, Loring Peterson; Student Council representative, Charles Day.

It hasn't been a bad year, has it Wanda? I'm looking forward to our next year together (and incidentally to our work.) I'm bidding about the work. We have had good times though. May the Lord bless you and keep you Wanda.

SOPHOMORE SATELLITES . . .

Kiser, Freeborn, Burns, Higgins, Ott.

SOPHOMORE class is composed of fifty-four members who represent fifteen states. Having acquainted themselves with M. C. the previous year, the members of this class were able to build their hopes higher in another year at school.

As Freshmen they occupied an afternoon raking leaves on the campus and were duly rewarded with apples as a gift from their sponsor.

In the first term of this year they contributed toward the welcoming of the new Freshman class, making the Freshman day a "bright" one for the newcomers.

Officers elected for the year were president, J. W. Kiser; vice-president, Maurice Burns; secretary, Ardene Higgins; treasurer, Joyce York Ott; and Student Council representative, Warren Freeborn.

Fourteen members of the original number in the class are now serving in the Armed Forces of our country.

Front Row: Jackson, Decker, Day.

THE fall of 1943 found on the campus an ambitious, spirited and slightly confused group. After the awe of registration day they settled down to study and fun—not forgetting the realities of war. With fewer fellows, how could they forget? This distinguished group was organized with Jane Decker as president. By this time they were ready for action. One of the outstanding occasions was the Freshman initiation. Then came Rush Day, with the majority allying themselves with the Amphics.

When it came to choosing between dignified seniority and unobserved complacency, they decided to be strictly "Freshman."

Other officers are vice-pres., Verma Day; secretary, Larry Cate; treasurer, Francis Ott; Student Council representative, Lois Jackson.

HEAP OF LIVIN' . . .

THE HOMES WE LIVE IN . . .

TETER Hall is one of the largest buildings on the Marion College campus. It houses most of the women students as well as including the Dean of Women's office and living quarters, the reception rooms, music studio and practice rooms, art studio, class rooms, library, kitchen, dining hall, Marionette and Journal offices.

Because of the increased enrollment of women this fall, it was filled to capacity and a west wing on the third floor was converted into eight rooms. There was still an over flow of girls into Baker House, a nearby tourist home.

AN HISTORICALLY quaint brick dwelling trimmed in white and setting well back on a large green lawn is known as Congress Hall, the home of M. C.'s single men students.

Located between the gymnasium and the College church, it is surrounded by evergreen trees and shrubs. Traditionally a depot for Slave-runners' underground, it finds its present use a far cry from its past history.

Liberty . . .

OUR liberty has been defended through the years by the life blood of American patriots. As a result, today we have our freedom—liberty to worship, think, speak, work, live as we desire. We have made use of the liberty to come to the campus and prepare for the way of life we have chosen. Certainly we owe our allegiance to the principles which guarantee these freedoms for all men. Freedom today is more priceless than ever before. Our freedom, our liberty is being fought for, preserved and defended with the very lives of former classmates.

Entered as second class matter, Marion, Indiana, January 23, 1929, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Our Opportunity . . .

A few weeks ago in a nationwide radio address Captain Eddie Rickenbacker suggested that a fifth freedom be added to the original four of the Atlantic Charter. That freedom: the freedom of opportunity; a freedom which has been sought by the masses but seemingly denied—particularly in the educational, political, social, and economic worlds. For centuries there have always been the less fortunate sects who, because of poverty, lack of certain humanitarian and inalienable rights, or for some other cause have been contravened of the right to opportunity.

The freedom of opportunity to act, advance, speak, think, and write according to ones own resources, although far from universal, is nevertheless one which is afforded us daily—without any appreciable limitation and to such an extent that unless we are thoughtful, we tend to accept it as a matter of fact in a causual, complacent way. In particular our opportunity is that of receiving an education—a Christian education at a time when our nation is engulfed in a struggle to preserve the ideals and opportunities which have characterized the American way of life. Many have forgone the privilege of attending and the prequisites that it affords, to serve in the armed forces of this nation. Do we value our opportunities as highly as they have regarded the safety of their country?

J. M. Edmonds describes very colorfully the contributions that can be made by observant people in his statement, "Not houses finely roofed or the stones of walls well builded, nay nor canals and dockyards, make the city, but men able to use their opportunity." The new year has just begun. The whole of it lies before us. As has been stated, for many, the privilege to charter for their life a course more suited to them, will be denied. They will have to forgo their desires or ambitions which lie close to their hearts because the door of opportunity which opens to paths appealing particularly to them, has suddenly been closed. But for us it is yet open, and the challenge is to make the best use of our energy and time that is possible during our days in college so that we might be better fitted and prepared to [illegible] for the sake of others, a greater service.

—W. S. F.

Liberty . . . Protected

"HALT! WHO GOES THERE?" might well be the cry of the service man here typifying the more than 125 Marion College students and alumni who have answered the call to protect the liberty we so highly prize. The representatives of Marion College in the Armed Forces have given and are giving today everything that life holds dear for them that the Christian institutions like Marion College might live in the world. We pay tribute to the three men listed to date as "missing in action": Lt. Charles Maggart, missing for over a year in the Southwest Pacific where he had piloted a combat plane; Seaman First Class Raymond E. Hughes, missing in the Mediterranean area; and Sgt. Edwin Ramsburg of the Army Air Corps also reported missing in the Mediterranean area. We shall cherish their memory and dedicate ourselves to the task of maintaining Marion College as a Christian institution for which men might consider it worthwhile to die if such necessity faced them.

Second Lieutenant John K. York of the Air Corps here typifies the Marion College servicemen. He has the moral courage and spiritual stamina characteristic of the Christian youth whose names here are listed with their respective branches of service as we have it to date.

FREEDOMS RELIGIOUS . . . COLLEGE CHURCH . . .

COLLEGE Wesleyan Methodist church provides spiritual nourishment and guidance to the young people, giving them a firm foundation in the essentials of the Christian faith. The church choir, under the direction of Prof. Herman Baker, is composed mainly of students. The inspiration and enthusiasm of their young lives stimulates the church as a whole in more abundant living. Most Marion College students faithfully attend the College church.

The present pastor of the church came from Miltonvale Wesleyan College church at Miltonvale, Kansas. Rev. Warren S. Freeborn and his wife are warm friends of the students as well as serving as their spiritual leaders.

STUDENT CONFERENCE . . .

Standing:
Day, Klatt,
Shugart, Carey,
Huffman.

Seated:
Fisher, Elder.

TO MOST M. C. students, the Student Conference means prayer and praise services, and opportunity to serve in the capacity of messengers of the gospel of Christ.

In the Tuesday night services and the noon prayer meetings throughout the week comes the opportunity for the prayer and praise coupled with exhortation from conference evangelists and testimony in song.

Opportunity of service is found as the conference sends teams regularly to the jail, the infirmary, the orphans home. In this service rendered and praise offered, many of the students find the secret of happy Christian living.

Paul Shugart headed the Student Conference as president this year, and his staff was as shown in the picture above.

Kiser, Higgins.

Seated:
Fisher, McGregor, Bolen.

MANY of the students who attend the College Wesleyan Methodist church are active in the Wesleyan Young People's Society. Charles McGregor served as president this year. The group worked on the plan of sending out gospel teams in home visitation and evangelistic services. They use their talents in planning and giving excellent worship programs which strengthen their spiritual life and helps prepare them for active Christian work in their home communities.

MARION College Youth's Temperance Council was the first college unit in Indiana. Since its organization it has been instrumental in organizing groups on other campuses.

Students participating in this activity have the opportunity of alcohol education by the Christian approach and are trained by actual experience for service in their home communities. These experiences include speech contests, public programs, and deputation team projects.

SENIOR Missionary Workers' Band gives an opportunity for especially mission-minded young people to do practical work in spreading the gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ. Robert Klatt was the president. This spring they secured the services of Rev. and Mrs. Alton E. Liddick, returned missionaries from India as speakers for the Y. M. W. B. Convention held at the College Church.

F. M. F.

THE local chapter of the Student Foreign Missionary Fellowship holds prayer meetings each Wednesday noon. Frances Major acted as president this year. Peter Stam III, national president of the F. M. F., visited the campus for personal interview with those students who are definitely preparing for the mission field as well as prospective missionaries.

FREEDOMS EXPRESSIVE . . . VARSITY FOUR

Personnel: Elsberry, McIntire, Fisher, Boyd.

COLLEGE male quartet is the favorite musical group of many people around the campus as well as the churches they visit representing the school. The quartet is made up of selected young men who are dedicated to the cause of Christ and are most able to serve Him in song. Their appearance is the promise of good music and spiritual encouragement with such songs in their repertoire as, "All Hail the Power," "Shine on Me," "If You Want Joy." As far as the rationing and facilities permitted the four travelled for their programs.

CHOIR

UNDER the direction of Prof. Herman Baker, the college a capella choir enjoyed a profitable season though again this year its personnel was fast shifting and the extensive traveling limited.

Despite the surrounding conditions, the song of the Christian heart does not change in principle. There is always that hope, that faith, that love which blossoms into a full-orbed note of inspiration through the living voice.

Some twenty voices uniting to sing such a message is the college choir, interpreters of the thought and then the tone, ambassadors of the message through that interpretation.

CHORUS

MARION College Community Chorus under the direction of Prof. Baker, is an appreciated feature of the college music year. Under the pressing war time contingencies, separate groups were forced to practice for the programs at different times through the week up to the time of presentation. But the over-all effect was the same as always with its impressive majesty.

Handel's famous oratorio, The Messiah, was presented at the Christmas season this year as usual, and the spring concert was Maunder's cantata, "From Olivet to Calvary." Both concerts featured student soloists and the a capella choir.

FREEDOMS EXPRESSIVE . . . DEBATE

Dr. McConn, Budensiek, Walker, Huffman, Meddock.

WHAT promised to be one of the best of debate teams of M. C. in several years was a disappointed group when, because of the contingencies of war, all debate tournaments in which they were to have debated were cancelled.

This group has laughingly boasted of the record of an undefeated season, as did the team of 1939-40. Dr. McConn, as usual, was the team coach, and its members were Mary Ellen Walker, David Budensiek, Clarence Huffman, and William Meddock.

THE Forensic Club is an organization of selected students from the speech department. Twice during the year competitive try-outs are held to secure new members. The work of the club consists of intercollegiate debate teams, interpretative readings, choric speech choir, and oratory.

The outstanding social event this year was the formal Spring banquet. The theme of this was famous men—outstanding leaders in American history. The club's motto is, "Mend your speech a little lest it may mar your fortunes." Marjorie Elder was president.

FREEDOMS EXPRESSIVE . . . MARIONETTE

Unphotographed: Peterson, Gentry.

MEMBERS of the Marionette staff have spent many long hours in the office performing the numerous details involved in producing a year book. They have tried to record life on the campus of Marion College during the year 1943-44 in such a way that the record will recall the happy experiences to those who will turn the pages of this book in the years to come. Because of war conditions the task was naturally a little more difficult to complete but the splendid cooperation of the student body and others has helped in its successful completion.

. . . JOURNAL . . .

PRODUCING fifteen Journals a year keeps the staff well occupied and the paper is always looked forward to with great eagerness by the students. The basic policy has been the advocating of a greater Marion College, the school that puts first things first in the various fields of its endeavor.

To this ideal the staff has consistently worked and has been loyal. It is a diligent staff that presents up to the minute news of all the activities of the school.

The paper has been sent to the Marion College servicemen at home and abroad who write back that they appreciate this contact with "Marion College in Print."

INTERNATIONAL Relations club is for the enjoyment and elucidation of those particularly interested in current events. Most of its members carry history or social studies majors, but all are possessed of a global consciousness. Releases from the Carnegie sponsor are placed in the club library at the disposal of any student. This club is a chapter of the national organization and participated in a regional conference at Chicago this spring. A questionnaire for the student body aroused interest in current events when presented by the club this year. Ruth Bolen has served as its president.

SCIENCE CLUB

THE Science club finds its members among those who enjoy or have enjoyed the study of science courses. An evening chapel program featured this year the dissection of a dog. The club sponsor reported in a special meeting on two National chemical conventions which he attended during the year. Ervin Boone, assistant in the science department, was president of the club which stimulated interest in things scientific on the campus.

The purpose of the club is to promote a better understanding of peoples who speak a tongue different from our own. The club sponsored the visit of the late Rev. SNAPS OF THE UNIFORMED

Women love uniforms, as is readily seen by the accompanying snaps. Whether it be the dark uniform of an Auxiliary Military Police as Leon models it with his wife, or the khaki of the army as Clara Jean sees on her brother Beverly. Chaplain Parker is dressed for action as he saw it in training in New England, while Mrs. Decker with Jane, holds the Captain's striped arm of her air cadet son, Jim. Corporal Berkebile returns the fond gaze of Miss Higgins on the parlor divan. Soldier of books as a member of the late ASTP, Verl Smith assumes a pugnacious attitude. And there are those Deckers again, this time with the head of the family, sea-going transport Chaplain C. C. Decker. Add a campus bench, a fir tree, another ASTP soldier and a charming senior girl and you have a college romance with Tippey and Zent as the principals in an "engaging" scene.

Pursuit of Happiness . . .

WE ARE endowed with the inalienable rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. There are many golden hours ahead. To find true happiness we must be wise and know true values. There may be shadows across the way and the way may be long and difficult, but we are gaining strength here for the journey. So, with a dream in our eyes, a voice in our ears, a sword in our hand, and a song in our hearts, we go forth to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. There can be no task too hard, no road too long.

This year they won for the third time the much coveted loving cup given by the annual yearbook staff for selling the most yearbooks per capita. This entitles them to regard the award as a permanent possession and place it in the trophy cabinet.

"EXCELSIOR" is the motto of this large and energetic group of students who band themselves together under the banner of Eureka. Loyal to the standard of the club and to the spirit of the whole school, its members lend themselves readily to its activities throughout the school year.

The new members who joined the ranks of the club this year were feted at a first term party at the Y. W. C. A. Together the members bought a new carpet for the chapel platform and presented it to the school.

Programs in the chapel by the club were varied and interesting while their participating in inter-society contests gave their opponents stiff opposition. Term presidents were Warren Freeborn, Forrest Boyd and Clayton Elsberry.

BUCKEYES

THOSE who are proud to call some large city or small town in Ohio "my old home town," band themselves under the name of Buckeyes, and are willing to admit that theirs is without doubt the best of the 48 states.

Out of their thirty-five members, John Williams was elected president. Under his leadership, the club had a party for its exclusive enjoyment and sponsored the installation of an intercommunication system previously donated in the girl's dormitory for the convenience of third floor-first floor conversation.

WESTERNERS

FROM the great expanse west of the Indiana border come many energetic out of door enthusiasts to Marion College. Along with them comes the love of billowing wheat and uniquely blue skies or cloud-surrounded mountain country.

To regain some of this atmosphere, the club annually takes an early morning hike which ends with a good breakfast in the crisp Indiana air.

They, as did other state clubs, gave a chapel program and had a club party as others were doing. A club project was in the process of planning at this writing.

HOOSIERS

THE Hoosiers have naturally the largest state club membership. They play an important part in welcoming out-of-state youth to the "old triangle in the heart of Hoosier-land." Lorman Elliott was this year's president of the club.

Through the sponsorship of the club the office of the president was the recipient of a refurbishing, including paper and paint.

Soon after the Christmas holidays the Hoosiers enjoyed a "Hobo Party," donning the appropriate garb for such an occasion, and conducting themselves in appropriate manner.

. . . EASTERNERS . . . DIXIES . . .

EASTERNERS

THE Easterners are the smallest among the state clubs in numbers but their enthusiasm ranks with the greatest when it comes to love of their native states or to support of the alma mater.

Leon Barse headed the club this year which gave an inspirational chapel program early in the year and donated additional black-out curtains for the chapel, supplementing those donated by seniors of '43 to equip the room for visual education films by day.

DIXIES

ASK a Dixie-lad or a Dixie-lass what they'd like for good eating, and this whole club will vote for shortnin' bread, ham, black-eyed peas, and grits 'n' gravy every meal every day. Aside from the fact that they hail from the south of the Mason-Dixon line, they rate a successful girls' basketball team and group of Central transfers to their credit.

Frank Warren was their president. A sunrise breakfast was a feature of the year's program which they enjoyed at the sponsor's home.

WOLVERINES

MICHIGANITES were credited with an increase in membership this year and were their usual snow-loving, efficient selves. Dwight Zavitz was elected president of the club.

Not wishing to be unlike the rest of the state groups, the Wolverines enjoyed the hospitality of their sponsor at an early morning breakfast.

WOLVERINES . . .

AT HOME . . . C. C. C. . . . S. A. R. . . .

C. C. C.

THE women's dormitory known as Teter Hall was crowded full last fall, in fact, Baker House was taken over to care for the increased enrollment of women students. The girls are organized into a Council of Cheerful Comrades and each new girl is given a "big sister" to watch over her during the year.

Annual events sponsored by the C. C. C.'s are, the beautiful formal Christmas Dinner, Thanksgiving Dinner, and a rollicking good time to celebrate everybody's birthday at the Birthday Dinner in the Spring.

Term presidents were: Helen Zent, Theda Cosand and Lillian Bryant.

S. A. R.

THERE is no life that can quite equal the experience of life in a men's dormitory, with its amusing incidents and the close comradeship of its inhabitants. The members of the S. A. R. whose home is in Congress Hall will vouch for this. Their organization patterned after the Federal government with a Secretary of State, Treasurer, etc., is called the Senators and Representatives.

Annually they sponsor the Easter Breakfast, trying their hand at preparing the entire meal and serving it to inquisitive attenders in an appropriate atmosphere.

The number in the hall does not vary much from year to year with sixteen as the maximum accommodated in the dormitory and particpating in the activities of the S. A. R. David Budensiek, "senior senator" from the West, was president of the group.

HAPPINESS PURSUED . . . HIKING CLUB . . .

First Row: Decker, Comfort, Cox, Ott, Wagner, May, Oman.

Second Row: Powers, Stair, Greenwalt, Baldwin, Bailey, Gress, Jackson, Higgins, Wagner, Evatt, Baker, Stewart, Haisley, Stephens.

Third Row: Wagner, Bryan, Arnett, Lough, Titus, Walker, Wood, Rode, Rode, Clevenger, E. Clevenger, Clouse, Fegan, Bixler, Butcher, Pake, Hagenson, Prof. Emerson.

ENERGETIC women students delight in the activities of the Hiking club. Betty Jean May was the president and Prof. Emerson the faculty sponsor.

This club, too, had a hike early one autumn morning, then returned for an out-of-door breakfast at the college oven.

Each member receives a certain number of points for her hiking mileage. Letters are awarded for those earning the required number of credits. Fourth year members, if active, are eligible for a sweater award.

Introducing . . .

"WHO'S WHO"

FROM the ranks of students in American colleges and universities are chosen each year by the group appointed for that purpose representative students who have accredited themselves with qualities of character, scholarship, leadership and potentialities. The men and women thus chosen are included in a yearbook biographical collection entitled "Who's Who Among Students of American Colleges and Universities," which includes students from about 550 schools.

The Marionette is pleased to present the five students selected for this honor and recognition for the year of '44. They are Theda Cosand, Verdon Higgins, Virginia Jones, William Meddock, and Robert Wetzel.

THEDA COSAND

THEDA COSAND of Damascus, Ohio, a graduate of the Senior Normal Class of 1939 has been active in chorus and a capella work and was also president of the Student Conference during the summer months of 1941.

Miss Cosand taught school upon completing her Normal course, taking extra work at Marion College during the summer months.

She returned to Marion College in the fall of 1943 for additional schooling. She will receive a B. S. in Elementary Education this spring.

Hi Wanda,
Well, this has been a real good year hasn't it? May the best always be yours.
Sincerely
Verdon Higgins

VERDON HIGGINS

VERDON HIGGINS, Marion, Indiana, has been active on the campus all through his college life.

He served as president of the Amphictyon Literary Society, member of both the Inter-Society Council and Student Council; and for two years reporter on the Journal staff.

This year he was Assistant Dean of Men and served in the honorable position of Senior Class president.

Mr. Higgins will receive a B. S. in High School Education this June.

VIRGINIA JONES

VIRGINIA JONES, Macon, Georgia, transferred from Central College, has served as Secretary to the President during her two years at Marion College.

She has also been active in social and society functions, serving on numerous committees and a member of many organizations, including Eureka Literary Club, Science Club, Foreign Language, Forensic and Y. T. C.

Miss Jones will be credited with an A. B. degree consisting of a double major—Spanish and Biblical Literature—at Graduation exercises.

Sincerely
Bill Jr.

WILLIAM MEDDOCK

WILLIAM MEDDOCK of Morrow, Ohio, has served during his college years in many and varied capacities.

He was a one-term president of the Amphictyon Literary Society, Junior class president, Buckeye club president, and was this year president of the Student Council.

For three years he was active in varsity debate and served on the Marionette and Journal staffs. During his Senior year he was a student pastor.

This June he will receive a B. of Rel. degree.

ROBERT WETZEL

ROBERT WETZEL of Marion, Indiana was particularly active throughout his college career in publication work. He was elected editor of the Journal in his sophomore year after having served as assistant editor in his freshman year. The editorship of the current Marionette was given him after having served as assistant editor and literary editor of the 1943 volume.

His other activities include singing as baritone in the "Victory Heralds" quartet, presidency of the Eureka Literary club, Freshman class presidency and membership for two years with the a capella choir. He is the only married member of Who's Who, and will receive B. of Rel. degree in August.

HAPPINESS ACTIVATED . . . SPORTS . . .

SPORTS

SPORTS play an important part in the activities of Marion College. The College Gymnasium is the scene of much friendly competition in games of basketball and volley ball. Baseball is also played as well as tennis on the athletic courts.

There are also facilities for tumbling activities and ping pong. The building is so constructed that formerly commencement services were held there.

Much happiness is found in this building, both during regular physical education class and the leisure hours when friends go there to relax by some game of sport.

. . . MEN ACTIVATE IT . . .

THE boys at Marion College play a game of basket ball that is fast and furious. Many a time the sidelines roar with enthusiasm at the players' feats.

The Junior boys proved to have the best combination among the class teams while the state club championship was captured by the Hoosiers.

A friendly group of Amphictyon fellows won over the loyal hard fighting Eurekans.

There was also the annual ping pong tournament. Eurekan Lloyd Linder was the winner over Amphic Paul Shugart in the final stage.

First Row: Amphic, Eurekan.

Second Row: Juniors, Hoosiers.

. . . WOMEN ACTIVATE IT . . .

THE girls' sports activities are a source of pleasure many a night in the college gym. They usually play the first basketball game of the two-game evening. Speed and surprising plays characterize their playing.

In the class team tourney, the Junior girls were victorious while the Dixie team triumphed over other state clubs.

The successful contestant between the literary societies was the fast Eurekan girls' team who outplayed their opponent, the Amphics, all season.

First Row: Eurekan, Amphic, Combination.
Second Row: Southerners, Hoosiers, Westerners.
Third Row: Freshmen, Miscellaneous.

Chaplain and Mrs. C. C. Decker

Marion College extends greetings to a war-weary world. More than 125 of her sons and daughters are in the service. Included in the group are nine chaplains and there are more with applications pending. These heroic souls have served in Africa, Sicily, Italy, England, New Guinea, Australia, Hawaii, India, the Philippines, Alaska, Panama, the Pacific, the Southwest Pacific, the Atlantic, the Mediterranean, and their sphere of service is constantly widening. One is a Japanese prisoner of war, and three have paid the supreme sacrifice.

Marion College dedicates herself to the task of carrying the banner of Christian education through the war period, be it long or short. Today, we are overcrowded in both classrooms and dormitories. An increase in student body is forcing us to lay plans for a new building. The board has approved a campaign for a new Administration-Library building to be erected as a post-war project. Ten per cent of its cost is already in the treasury. Will you help Marion College meet this need? Christian Education must carry on. Send contributions to J. D. Williams, treasurer.

GEORGE STREET WESLEYAN METHODIST CHURCH

MY CHURCH

My church is where the Word of God is preached, the power of God is felt, the Spirit of God is manifested, the love of God is revealed and the unity of God is perceived.

It is the home of my soul, the altar of my devotions, the hearth of my faith, the center of my affections and the foretaste of heaven.

I have united with it in solemn covenant, pledging myself to attend its services, to pray for its members, to give to its support, and to obey its laws.

It claims the first place in my heart, the highest place in my mind, the principal place in my activities, and its unity, peace and progress con-- cern my life in this world and in that which is to come.

I owe it my zeal, my benevolence and my prayers. When I neglect its services, I injure its good name, I lessen its power, I discourage its members, and I chill my own soul.

I have solemnly promised in the sight of God and men to advance its interests by faithful attendance, by reading the Holy Bible, by never neglecting its ordinances, by contributing to its support, by meeting with my fellow members, by watching over their welfare, and by joining with them in prayer, praise and service, and that promise I this day renew, before God my Father, Christ my Redeemer, and the Holy Ghost my Sanctifier.—John Bunyan Smith.
